

Personal Mobile Phone | Apps

Can someone force you to download an application on your personal mobile device for work related use?

No, they can not require you to install and use apps on your personal cell phone. If a phone and app(s) are requirements of your job, your employer should provide and pay for them.

Members who require our assistance are asked to contact us.

